

Thays Lobo

ESOL Career Coach

Thays provides group and individual workforce readiness coaching to students who are learning English at ENB's community ESOL programs across neighborhoods city-wide. She helps students prepare for the job market and small business opportunities based on their interests and backgrounds. Thays supports students as they learn to use technology as part of their job search, learn about U.S. work culture, and connect with employers who will treat them with respect. Coaches serve as the liaison with employers for job placement and continue to support ESOL students post-employment.

Thays is trilingual, speaking Portuguese, English and Spanish. She took her first English class at Maverick Landing Community Services, a program supported by ENB. She finds it a huge pleasure to use her knowledge to help immigrants like herself to gain a better life.

Thays has worked as a Portuguese Interpreter, and was founder and owner of an artistic productions company. Thays also served as liaison between local entrepreneurs and businesses with the Olympic Committee for the Rio 2016 Summer Olympics. She received a Bachelor's degree in Journalism from City University in Rio De Janeiro, Brazil and is pursuing her Associates degree in Human Services at Bunker Hill Community College.
